Spotlight on the Shire of Ashburton

Tom Price | Onslow | Paraburdoo | Pannawonica

Overview

The Commission notes that inland and coastal towns within the Shire of Ashburton (SoA) have distinct property markets, with different economic drivers. This results in differing levels of demand and variances in stock levels across the rental and sales markets. Therefore, combined LGA level statistics for SoA may not adequately reflect activity of individual markets within the Shire.

In Tom Price, house prices increased during the first half of 2026 while fewer properties were listed for sale. Properties sold in a considerably shorter timeframe than during the corresponding period in 2025. In the rental market, weekly rents declined compared to the previous year.

In Onslow, the number of properties listed for sale increased and median house prices continued to rise. In the rental market, available rental stock increased while weekly rents remained relatively stable compared to the corresponding period in 2025.
